

Chloe Fairley

Qualification(s): BA (Hons) Trinity College, Dublin
Post Graduate Diploma in Law, College of Law, York
BVC, College of Law, London

Year of Call: 2004

Inn: Gray's Inn

Main Areas of Practice:

Crime:

- All aspects of criminal work with emphasis on Defence work. Appears mainly in the Crown Court, but continues to represent individuals charged with driving offences. Has experience in all criminal matters, including drugs offences, violent crimes, sexual offences, and abuse of process arguments.
- CPS Grade II prosecutor
- Prosecuting for agencies other than the CPS including Group 4 Securicor, the National Probation Service and local authorities in both the Crown and Magistrates' Courts
- Specialist experience prosecuting and defending in confiscation proceedings in both the Crown and Magistrates' Courts.

Prison Law:

- Advising and representing prisoners at 'lifer' parole hearings.
- Advising and representing prisoners in adjudication hearings for a broad range of offences against discipline.
- Advising and representing prisoners in parole board hearings and recalls on licence.

Regulatory:

- Prosecuting and defending in cases brought by various government departments and executive agencies.
- Extensive experience of appearing on behalf of the Revenue and Customs Prosecutions Office both in the Magistrates' and Crown Court.
- Instructed to appear at Coroner's inquests with a Coroner sitting alone and a jury.
- Currently instructed as Led Junior for defence in test case brought by MHRA.

Additional Information

Specialist Associations: Criminal Bar Association

Scholarships: William Shaw Award, Gray's Inn (2003)

Clerk(s):

Jo Pickersgill/Wayne Stevens (Crime)