Witness Anonymity - Procedure, Practicalities and Pitfalls

The statute, the decided law, the appropriate procedures, the practical difficulties which are likely to arise and the potential consequences of ill-advised/failed applications. Statutory support for anonymity has already resulted in a significant number of applications and there is a real risk of such being encouraged as no more than another special measure.

Speakers: David Hatton QC and Elyas Patel

"We Have Ways of Making you Talk"

The Use in Criminal Proceedings of Evidence Obtained Under Compulsion in Family Care Proceedings

Self-Incrimination and Disclosure; S.98 Children Act 1989

Causing or Allowing the Death of a Child; S.5 Domestic Violence Act 2004

The Erosion of a 'Right to Remain Silent'.

This seminar will focus upon the evidential interplay between family and criminal proceedings involving the death or serious injury of children. It is relevant to criminal and family practitioners - who need to be aware of the law and evolving practices and procedures in both jurisdictions.
