

Peter Carter QC

LL B – London
1974 – Called Gray's Inn
1995 – Queens Counsel
2003 – Bencher, Gray's Inn

Fields of Practice

Crime: all types of criminal law for prosecution and defence, but principally fraud. Fraud work includes advising companies and individuals caught up in fraud investigations as potential defendants, targets of search and seizure (especially confidential material or material subject to privilege), or as potential witnesses.

Interest in, and knowledge of, international human rights law including work pro bono in the Privy Council in appeals from the Caribbean.

Additional Information

Member of Specialist Associations: Chair of the Bar Human Rights Committee, Governor of the British Institute of Human Rights, Criminal Bar Association, Institute of Advanced Legal Studies.

Teaching Experience: lectures on criminal law (including international criminal law and the International Criminal Court) and human rights to practitioners. Organises, and speaks at, a series of seminars held at Gray's Inn in 2002 on the importance of international crime law for English lawyers.

Publications:

Offences of Violence (jointly with Ruth Harrison) published by Sweet & Maxwell. Chapter on international criminal law in Human Rights Protection: Methods and Effectiveness edited by Frances Butler, published by Kluwer in 2001.