
Natalia Escoriza

2002 – Called Middle Temple

BSc Society & Government with Business Administration, Aston University
MSc Social and Political Theory, Edinburgh University
PgDL College of Law
ICSL

Main Areas of Practice:

Family:

- Children – public and private, including adoption and jurisdictional matters
- Ancillary Relief
- Injunctive Proceedings
- Divorce

Nature of Practice

Is a specialist family practitioner.
Has built up a solid family practice covering all areas of family law.

Children

Appears regularly on behalf of parents, grandparents, and other family members, in both public law and private law cases. Also has experience in representing Local Authorities and children.

Frequently instructed in cases involving the following issues:

- Allegations of physical abuse and sexual abuse
- Allegations of domestic violence
- Mental health issues
- Special Guardianship applications
- Adoption applications, including revocation of freeing for adoption
- Removal from the jurisdiction
- Transfer of jurisdiction
- Cases with a “foreign element”
- Findings of fact

Ancillary Relief

In addition to children work, is experienced in representing clients at all stages of ancillary relief matters, from first appointment through to final hearing, including advising in conference.

Injunctive Proceedings

All areas of injunctive work are undertaken, including Non-Molestation applications, Occupation Order applications, Specific Issue applications and Prohibited Steps applications.

Divorce

Experience in advising on, and representing clients in, contested divorce proceedings.

Additional Information

Membership of Specialist Associations: Family Law Bar Association

Scholarships: Jules Thorn Scholarship, Middle Temple, 2001